Retirement Planning Key Numbers

Certain retirement plan and IRA limits are indexed for inflation each year, and 2024 saw increases in many figures. Some of the key numbers are listed below, with the corresponding limit for 2023. (The source for the 2024 numbers is IRS Notice 2023-75.)

Elective deferral limits	2023	2024
401(k) plans, 403(b) plans, 457(b) plans, and SAR-SEPs <sup>1</sup> (includes Roth contributions)	Lesser of $22,500 or 100% of participant's compensation ($30,000 if age 50 or older) <sup>2</sup>	Lesser of $23,000 or 100% of participant's compensation ($30,500 if age 50 or older) <sup>2</sup>

Defined benefit plan annual benefit limits	2023	2024
Annual benefit limit per participant	Lesser of $265,000 or 100% of average compensation for highest three consecutive years	Lesser of $275,000 or 100% of average compensation for highest three consecutive years

Defined contribution plan limits [qualified plans, 403(b) plans, and SEP plans]	2023	2024
Annual addition limit per participant (employer contributions; employee pre-tax, after-tax, and Roth contributions; and forfeitures)	Lesser of $66,000 or 100% (25% for SEP) of participant's compensation	Lesser of $69,000 or 100% (25% for SEP) of participant's compensation

<sup>1</sup> Must aggregate employee deferrals to all 401(k), 403(b), SAR-SEP, and SIMPLE plans of all employers; 457(b) contributions are not aggregated. For SAR-SEPs, the percentage limit is 25% of compensation reduced by elective deferrals (effectively a 20% maximum contribution).

<sup>2</sup> Special catch-up limits may also apply to 403(b) and 457(b) plan participants.
